"Sir, what is the secret of your success?" a reporter asked a bank president.

"Two words"

"And, Sir, what are they?"

"Right decisions."

"And how do you make right decisions?"

"One word."

"And, sir, what is that?"

"Experience."

"And how do you get Experience?"

"Two words"

"And, Sir, what are they?"

"Wrong decisions"

Maria: Why is your face red?

Marlene: I'm so embarrassed because a man just told me my stockings are wrinkled.

Maria: Don't worry, that's happened to me.

Marlene: When you weren't wearing any?

A man walked into a Circle-K, put a $20 bill on the counter and asked for change. When the clerk opened the cash drawer, the man pulled a gun and asked for all the cash in the register, which the clerk promptly provided. The man took the cash from the clerk and fled, leaving the $20 bill on the counter. The total amount of cash he got from the drawer? Fifteen dollars.

A window salesman telephoned his not-too-bright customer. "Ms. Brown, our company replaced all your windows with triple-glazed models more than a year ago, and we still haven't received a single payment." "But," the customer protested, "You promised me they would pay for themselves in 12 months!"

When it's springtime in Saskatchewan

And the gentle breezes blow,
About seventy miles an hour
And it's fifty-two below.

You can tell you're in Saskatchewan
'cause the snow's up to your butt,
And you take a breath of springtime
air
And your nose holes both freeze shut.

The weather here is wonderful,
So I guess I'll hang around,
I could never leave Saskatchewan
Cause my feet are frozen to the ground.

A biology class student conducted an experiment on what would happen to a Grasshopper, if its legs were taken off.

He pulled off one of its legs and yelled 'hop!', and the grasshopper hopped. Then he took off another leg and yelled 'hop!' and the grasshopper hopped. Then he took off all of its legs and yelled 'hop!' but the insect did not hop. He yelled again, but the insect did not hop. So he came to the conclusion that when all the legs of a grasshopper are removed, it will become deaf.

It was the end of the day when a cop parked his police van in front of the station. As he gathered his equipment, his K-9 partner was barking and he saw a little boy staring in at him. "Is that a dog you got back there?" he asked. "It sure is," he replied. Puzzled, the boy looked at him and then towards the back of the van. Finally he said, "What'd he do?"

A little boy got lost at the YMCA and found himself in the women's locker room. When he was spotted, the room burst into shrieks, with ladies grabbing towels and running for cover. The little boy watched in amazement and then asked, "What's the matter haven't you ever seen a little boy before?"

A cop pulls over a guy who's weaving his car through four lanes of traffic.
Cop: You drinkin'?
Driver: That depends.
You buyin'?

Mother-in-law: After all these years, I'm finally taking driving lessons.

Tom: How are you doing?

Mother-in-law: Not so good. I get behind the wheel and have no idea what to do.

Tom: Well, just imagine that I'm driving and you're in the backseat.

Why was the broom late?

Little Johnny's mother asked him, "Why did you get such a low grade on that test?" "Because of an absence," he replied.
"You mean you were absent on the day of the test?" she questioned.

Little Johnny replied, "No, but the kid who sits next to me was."

An old man is sitting on a park bench when a teenage boy with multicolored hair sits down next to him. The teenager is annoyed that the man keeps staring at his hair.

Arrogant boy: What's the matter old man; didn't you do anything wild when you were young?

Old man: Sure, I had an affair with a parrot and I was just wondering if you were our offspring.

Landlady: Your complaint about your room has no foundation: You won't find a single flea in my house.

Lisa: I know. They're all married with big families.

Saul: Terry has been living on his own, and let me tell you, he's the worst housekeeper in the world.

Paul: Why do you say that?

Saul: He wipes his feet before he goes out.

Jim: The doctor told me I need more exercise.

Sue: I hope that means that now you won't be spending all your free time watching golf on T.V.

Jim: It sure does. From now on, I'll watch tennis.

A man is driving down a backcountry road when he comes around a curve and sees he is bearing down on a pig and a cat. He swerves and avoids hitting the pig, but he kills the cat. After some thought, he takes the remains to a nearby farmhouse and asks the farmer if it was his cat. He explained how he swerved to avoid hitting the pig. The farmer identifies it as his cat, and thanked the man for his honesty. "Well," says the man, "I really was going to drive off but I thought the pig might squeal!"

A baby rabbit was orphaned. Fortunately, a family of squirrels took him in and raised him as if he were one of their own. As the rabbit grew he acted more like a squirrel than a rabbit, running around like the other squirrels instead of hopping like a rabbit.

As he got older, however, the rabbit faced an identity crisis, so he went to his squirrel parents to discuss the problem. He confessed how he increasingly felt different from his squirrel siblings and wanted more and more to act like a rabbit. And do you know what his wise squirrel parents told him?

"Don't scurry, be hoppy."

T.J.: Why do elephants paint their toenails red?

Z.J.: I don't know.

T.J.: So they can hide in cherry trees.

Z.J.: I've never seen an elephant in a cherry tree.

T.J.: See, it works!

After a long day of listening to a Texan brag, a New Yorker decided to show the Texan the Empire State Building. When the Texan put down New York's well-known landmark by saying "Heck, that's nothing. In Texas, we have outhouses bigger than that!" The New Yorker responded, "You need them!"

Baby Bear looked it to his bowl and it was empty. He asked loudly, "Who's been eating my porridge?" Papa Bear looked into his big bowl and it was empty. He asked loudly, "Who's been eating my porridge?" Mama Bear yelled from the kitchen, "Will you two please be quiet? I haven't made the porridge yet!!!"

Through the pitch-black night, the captain sees a light dead ahead on a collision course with his ship. He sends a signal: "Change your course 10 degree east."

The light signals back: -
"Change yours, 10 degrees west."

Angry, the captain sends: "I'm a navy captain! Change your course, sir!"

"I'm a seaman, second class," comes the reply. "Change your course, sir."

Now the captain is furious.

"I'm a battleship! I'm not changing course!"

There is one last reply. "I'm a lighthouse. Your call."

Evan: Mom, I have the biggest feet in my grade 9 class. Is that because of genes?

Mom: No, it's because you're 14.

BROOMMATES

A man hated his wife's cat and he decided to get rid of it. He drove 20 blocks away from home and dropped the cat there. The cat was already walking up the driveway when he approached his home. The next day, he decided to drop the cat 40 blocks away but the same thing happened. He kept on increasing the number of blocks but the cat kept on coming home before him. At last he decided to drive a few miles away, turn right, then left, past the bridge, then right again and another right and so on until he reached what he thought was a perfect spot and dropped the cat there. Hours later, the man calls his wife at home and asked her, "Jen is the cat there?" "Yes, why do you ask?" answered the wife.

Frustrated the man said, "Put that cat on the phone, I am lost and I need directions."
